1914 - 1919

With the declaration of war in August 1914 most rugby at club and representative levels came to an abrupt halt. This letter from the RFU sums up the position :-

*September 8th. 1914 " The ERU think it is right to supplement their former communication to their clubs by now urging them all to cancel their fixtures.
Immense numbers of Rugby Union men have already joined a military body, the Rugby Union think more might enlist if they could join a Corps in which they have friends.
To this end the Rugby Union are to approach the War Office to see if it is feasible to form a Corps of football men who could serve together. "*

In the period 1914 to 1919 there are records of a few games being organised locally on an ad hoc basis, mainly involving military sides.

On January 7th. 1915 a game was played between Tyneside Irish and Tyneside Scottish at the original County Ground. The Tyneside Irish team list is recorded showing nearly all team members to be from Northumberland and Durham clubs and included two Northumberland county players.

Two months later on March 11th. a Military County Match was staged between Northumberland and Durham XV's with all players being men serving in the forces. The Northumberland team contained at least four of the players who had been in the County XV for the last game before the conflict.

As the war progressed there were, understandably, fewer such events although it seems that occasional games were seen as a morale booster. There is even mention of a munition workers XV – Tyne Munitioners RFC – being formed in 1916 and playing matches.

County Championship rugby was obviously totally absent in those years but there seems to have been enthusiasm to return to some kind of normality once the war was over. As early as 14th. March 1919 Northumberland ran a City v County trial match. This was followed on 31st. March by a Northumberland v Canadian Overseas Forces match which Northumberland won 11-6. Considering there were only 5 clubs in the whole of Canada at that time this seems a creditable performance.

This was followed on 5th.April 1919 with a game versus Durham at Gosforth which the visitors won 9 -13. On 9th. April 1919 Northumberland played against a Mother Country Army XV dubbed "Cream of the Empire". The opposition included two Northumberland players in Major A.S.Cumberledge and Lt. Col. J.Brunton.; the latter also being an England international. There followed a further match against Durham at Hartlepool on 14th.April.

This return to regular playing paved the way for a return of the County Championship in the 1919-20 season.
